

Refining Desire with Faith Measurement

The purpose of this document is to define the purpose of Faith Measurement. Faith Measurement is what we do so God can change our heart. Heart change is God's process. Faith Measurement is what we do to facilitate (set up) that desire refining process. With Faith or Power Measurement we examine our heart for both confession and heart change recognition. Since God is a spirit, we must communicate with him in spirit. With Faith Measurement we mentally facilitate that spiritual communication. In other words, in order to sacrifice our heart spiritually we must know what we are sacrificing mentally. It is our heart. Like children with a new toy, we must first be excited about our toy before it means anything for us to give it back to God. With Faith Measurement and the Lamp of the Holy Spirit we mentally examine our heart to know what "really turns us on". Notice: it is actually the opposite of meditation techniques that empty the mind of desire, because it is through the heart. God communicates with us in spirit through the heart, so we will love both what we give him and what he gives us.

The Sound Bite for Faith Measurement

The immediate purpose of this document is to develop a sound bite for Faith Measurement. Even though we all have a measure of faith, people do not know what I mean when I say faith measurement. In previous documents I have said it is the subject of our prayers. Since we are asked to pray for our personal callings, the callings of our friends and acquaintances within and without the Body of Christ, the calling for God's Chosen People (the Jews), and the calling for all those in God's authority. Since we are asked to pray for these callings, we are asked to pray for various aspects of God's Business: His People, His Church, His Finished Business, His Current Business, Our Business with Him and therefore Our Business with each other. The sound bite then would be: Faith Measurement is the mental activity, mental control and mental product facilitating our prayer. In other words, it is our role in prayer. It is what we do in our mind that is required to facilitate what God wants to do in our heart.

Summary: Refining Desire with Faith Measurement

The purpose of this document is to define the purpose of Faith Measurement. Faith Measurement is what we do so God can change our heart. Heart change is God's process. Faith Measurement is what we do to facilitate (set up) that desire refining process. With Faith Measurement we mentally facilitate our spiritual communication. In other words, in order to sacrifice our heart spiritually we must know what we are sacrificing mentally. It is our heart. Like children with a new toy, we must first be excited about our toy before it means anything for us to give it back to God. The sound bite then would be: Faith Measurement is the mental activity, control and product facilitating our prayer.