

Dear Bob and Emily,

I do not have to tell you how the news of Zita's passing devastated our family. She meant a lot to us. We kept in touch over the distances and years almost up until her death. We talked about a month ago, she mentioned the family addition, and we talked about my children she so lovingly and kindly cared for 35 years ago. She eagerly memorized my 10 grandchildren's names although she has never seen them.

Zita lived a happy, healthy life, and we always expressed gratitude to God to provide us with the strength and fortitude to overcome the difficulties, to allow us to live a satisfying life.

It's hard to put into words just how much Zita meant to us. Now, that she is no longer with us, I can not even imagine, picking up the phone, and not hear her voice, her encouraging and wise words.

You must be feeling overwhelmed by the devastating experience of coping with the void Zita left in your life. If I can be of any help, please call/write me. Please accept our family's condolences and deepest sympathy. She will always live in our fondest memories!
